

As a nationwide leader in aluminum extrusion manufacturing, we are entrusted to assemble the right team to complete the job on time and within budget. While overall costs are always important, cost alone is not the only factor we use when selecting the team. Equally important to cost is a company's professionalism, knowledge, and experience.

We have worked with Granco Clark for several years, and we have been extremely pleased with the results. Our original Granco Clark equipment is over 20 years old and is still outperforming most presses of its size.

When deciding on a supplier for our new automated press line, it was an easy choice; Granco Clark was that choice. The proposals that Granco Clark provides are complete, accurate, and transparent; this quality information enables us to rely on the pricing to be sure that there won't be any unwelcome surprises at the end of a job. Since the Granco Clark team is such a professional and trustworthy group, the time we would have otherwise had to spend working out the project details with a different contractor could be spent elsewhere. Ultimately, Granco Clark makes our job easier."

Granco Clark delivered our new heating and cooling system very safely and efficiently. They were able to answer any questions along the way to ensure a successful project for MI Metals and Granco Clark. This new press line is running very well and is delivering beyond expectations.
